Salvini's splendid work provoked extraordinary enthusiasm. It is said that his conception of "Lear" is even more broad and imaginative than his conception of "Othello," and that he has risen in "Lear" to the whole hight of his genius. The appearance of Salvini as "Lear" has been looked forward to since it was known that he had begun to study that great character with intense curi-osity. He has not spared study. During osity. He has not spared study. During many years he has given patient thought to the character, and he has refrained until now, for reasons which are the reasons of true artists alone, to present his idea of "Lear" upon the stage. His success, therefore, is a very beautiful and honestly won triumph.

Hawkins has for some time been working for the establish-ment of a State weather bureau, to assist such as low prices, are obtained in this college because it is richly endowed by wealthy citizens of Cincinnati. It can declare no dividends. Its officers have no salaries. Its president is Geo. Ward Nichols, and among the directors are Reuben B. Springer, Gen. A. T. Goshorn and Gov. J. D. Cox.

ment of a State weather bureau, to assist the Signal Service Bureau of the government, and has had considerable correspondence looking to that end. A large number of gentlemen, in various portions of the Signal Service Was written to and had promised cooperation by furnishing instruments, etc., to the various stations. In his report, recently submitted, Dr. Hawkins speaks of this project, and suggests that further aid be extended by the State. It is proposed to have at least one observer in every county. The government will supply instruments for the government will supply instruments for the larger portion and all others might be furnished by the State at a cost not exceeding $1200. As will be seen by the following letter, the greater part of the work will be One of the most brilliant and enjoyable germans of the season was given by Mr. and Mrs. Noisand Fontaine last night at the Peabody Hotel. Mrs. Fontaine and Mrs. C. B. Galloway acted as general hostesses, and by their genial hospitality contributed indisputably to the pleasure of the evening. No better place than the Peabody could have been selected, as Col. Galloway was careful no detail should be GEN. HAZEN'S LETTER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, JANUARY 12, 1883. Peabody could have been selected, as Col. Galloway was careful no detail should be eighted It was acknowledged on all hands to have been one of the most delightful society affairs ever given in Memphis. The ball-room was declared by the ladies to be perfection, and the favors distributed were simply unique. The german was in keeping with the taste and hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. Fontaine. The prettiest of the Memphis belies were present. The occasion was in honor of the guests of Miss Mollie Fontaine, one of our most amiable and popular ladies. The supper prepared for the occasion, under the supervision of that genial caterer, Mr. Alex. Kenyan, assisted by Peter Noonan and William Miller, was a marvel of culinary art. Among those present last night were the following:

Miss Mamie Savage and Mr. Walter White. Miss Fontaine and Mr. Henderson Beard. Miss Barmett, of Kentucky, and Mr. Levi Joy. Miss Eva Merritt and Mr. Ise Walts. Mis Kats Thompson and Mr. John Walker. Galloway was careful no detail should be elighted. It was acknowledged on all hands to have been one of the most delightful society sfairs ever given in Memphis. The ball-room was declared by the ladies to be
